Let us in on your Sydney goss at cityseen@ninetofive.com.au.

Sydney mag girl-turned-author Zoe Foster (right) has just unleashed her debut novel, Air Kisses (Penguin, $32.95). It's about a gal who is starting out as a beauty editor at a top glossy and carving her path in the world of air kisses. It's not unlike Zoe's real life – she was previously a beauty editor at Cosmopolitan and beauty director at Harper's Bazaar. She's now at the helm of new beauty website, www.primped.com.au, launching next month. On the novel, Zoe says: "I don't mind if any [Sydneysiders] see themselves in the characters, because I thought they were all fairly pleasant!" The long-time girlfriend of rugby star Craig Wing had former Cosmo editor and now author Mia Freeman as a mentor while writing. Zoe's dad David is also an award-winning author and penned a cookbook, A Year of Slow Food, with wife Gerda. Zoe has a three-book deal with Penguin and says the WAG world (or, the Wives and Girlfriends of elite sportsmen) is providing good fodder for the future: "It offers a lot of interesting personalities and there's always something interesting going on!" Radio queen and comedian Wendy Harmer will play host at a Christmas in July luncheon and fashion parade at The Rocks' Bel Mondo eatery on July 25. It's being put on by bowel cancer group The Colorectal Foundation. To book, email helenhowe@colorectal.foundation.com.au
